The building, lovingly named without the least bit of irony, serves as Schaff's home and studio as well as home and meeting place for other artists (most notably resident musicians MorganEve Swain, and the Late David Lamb, both of Brown Bird). 39 Baker Street, Warren

The building is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and is an integral part of the Warren Waterfront Historical District. Warren's craftsmen, constructed the Federal-style building with oak timbers from ships sunk across Newport Harbor in 1770's.

The fresco murals located on the second-floor were selected from the works of "Book of the Dead" and "Papyrus of Ani". Max Muller, a member of the Lodge and a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design at that time, was the artist who hand painted the murals in 1915.
