For Jossy Lowmes, color comes first: a dab here, a swash or stroke there, she draws from a catalog of visual memories. Working in oil or acrylics, her enthusiasm for life conveys energy onto the canvas, as she is searching to share the vast wonders of nature and reveal the aspirations we all secretly hold within.

Over her 40 year career, Jossy has trained with many of the art world's most notable talents, and showcases her artwork in the permanent collections of several noteworthy institutions.

WASHINGTON LODGE MASONIC TEMPLE

39 Baker Street, Warren

The building is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and is an integral part of the Warren Waterfront Historic District. Warren's craftsmen, constructed the Federal-style building with oak timbers from ships sunk in Newport Harbor in the 1770's.

The fresco murals located on the second-floor were selected from the works of "Book of the Dead" and "Papyrus of Ani". Max Muller, a member of the Lodge and a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design at that time, was the artist who hand painted the murals in 1915.

Washington Lodge Masonic Temple will be open on Art Night, June 29th, from 5:30 - 7:30 pm.
