ART NIGHT
BRISTOL ◀ WARREN

August 29, 2024 5:30 - 8:30 PM

Jossy Lownes Studio
64 Church Street, Warren

For Jossy Lownes, color comes first: a dab here, a swash or stroke there, she draws from a catalog of visual memories. Working in oil or acrylics, her enthusiasm for life conveys energy onto the canvas, as she is searching to share the vast wonders of nature and reveal the aspirations we all secretly hold within.

Over her 40 year career, Jossy has trained with many of the art world's most notable talents, and showcases her artwork in the permanent collections of several noteworthy institutions.

The Lady Next Door shop on Water Street has been carrying eclectic vintage, antiques and collectibles for over 40 years.

Stop by for a curated selection of vintage clothing, hats, jewelry, housewares, decorative items and so much more.

Art in the Garden

178 Water Street, Warren

Renee Brooks, resident ceramicist (and “assistant” gardener to Louise Ornstien, owner and chief creator of this sweet “Secret Garden”) will be exploring with clay, hoping to have an interactive sculpture in progress for others to partake in. “Pushing for Peace”, is a time to consider how one might experience inner peace, in a moments notice.

We are also happy to say that Ray Vadeboncoeur will be returning to share his music with all.

Come enjoy some simple refreshments, music and clay play, all within this charming garden!

HANDMADE

81 Water Street, Warren

"As a Kurdish contemporary artist, I use my work to tell the stories of Mesopotamian symbology and its people. In my works, I use the symbols of Mesopotamia to tell the stories of my people. My art bridges the ancient past with the modern world, revealing the rich history of my culture.

In addition at Tigris Handmade, we continue our family's over 700-year-old shoemaking tradition, striving to pass this rich cultural heritage on to future generations." - Selahattin Sep

August 29, 2024 5:30 - 8:30 PM

The Graham Gallery

412A Thames Street, Bristol

"Three Waves for Coastway" exterior mural painted for Coastway Bank. This large public art mural painting developed from two small paintings currently available at The Graham Gallery in Bristol through September 7th

AMY BARTLETT WRIGHT

Pathways and Waterways, Scenes of Rhode Island.

This month at The Graham Gallery, many of the small life-study plein air and studio paintings that later became public art murals are available for the first time. Amy will explain how these small paintings help her paint beautiful landscapes and waterscapes of Rhode Island via rolling Powerpoint slide show. Amy feels this step by step process interests painters, muralists, collectors and non-artists alike, as she aims to offer insight into the world of creation of her art using a mixture of scale, extensive planning... and maybe just a sprinkle of magic!

Hours Thursday/Friday 4 to 7 pm, Saturday 1-5 pm,
by appointment or if the Open flag is out.

MUSIC PERFORMANCES

Su Casa performs by the "Pirate Park" at 252 Water St from 5:30-7:30. (Studio 246 in case of rain)

Su Casa is a musical ensemble that performs an eclectic mix of original and cover songs.

Featuring Chloë Bohorquez (acoustic guitar, keyboards, and vocals), David Stem (electric lead guitar, vocals), Kenn Takata (electric bass guitar), and Matt Richter (drums, percussion), their repertoire is a blend of rock 'n' roll, country, blues, and indie folk, with sweet vocal harmonies.

With a wealth of musical talent and love for their craft, Su Casa is music for your heart and soul.

On August 29th, Alexa McHugh will perform between 57 and 63 Water St (near The Greenery) from 5:30-7:30.

She'll entertain with a wide range of genres from many decades as well as her original songs.

In the event of rain, Alexa will move her set to Arc{hive} book + Snackery and play from 7:00 - 9:00pm.

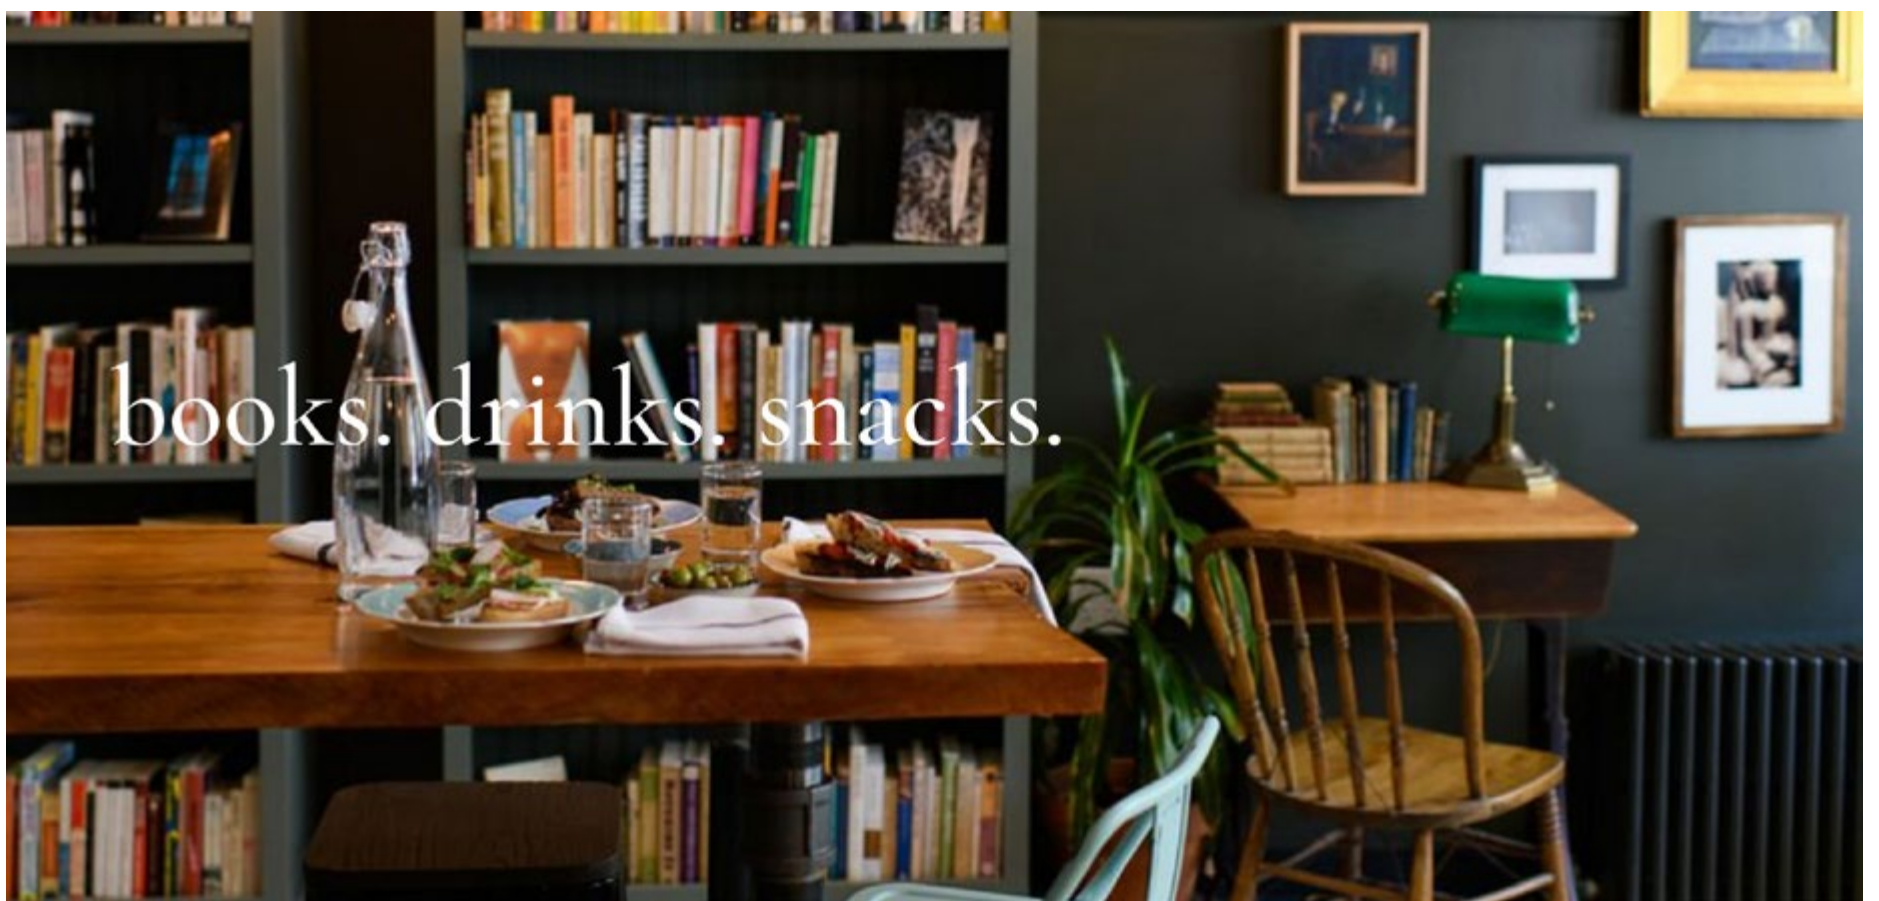

Beth Barron will perform from 6:00 - 7:30 pm at Rising Tides Apothecary!

On Art Night, Ray Vadeboncoeur will perform in the garden at 178 Water Street.
